If You Need Help Right Now

You are not out of options. Start with one of these three calls.

Or text HOME to 741741 if you'd rather type than talk. If someone is in immediate physical danger, call 911.

You do not need an ID, an address, a job, or sobriety to call any number in this guide.

How to Use This Guide

1. Find your county. Almost every program here serves one county only. Start where you actually are.
2. Call the intake number first. Showing up at a shelter usually sends you back to a phone call.
3. Call early in the morning. Beds are assigned as they open. Delaware's intake specifically asks people to call as early as possible.
4. Ask about a waitlist and ask what to do tonight if there's no bed. Intake workers know the overflow options; they will not always volunteer them unless asked.
5. You do not need an ID, an address, a job, or sobriety to call any number in this guide. Programs that require documents will help you get them.
6. Tell your bishop or a trusted ward member. Ward leaders can help with immediate needs, rides, phone calls and follow-up, whether or not you attend church.

About this guide. Compiled by volunteers of the Wilmington Delaware Stake as a free community service for anyone in Cecil, Harford and Kent counties (Maryland), New Castle County (Delaware), and Lancaster and Chester counties (Pennsylvania). It is not legal or medical advice, and no bed, voucher or service is guaranteed. Information was checked in October 2026, but programs, phone numbers, hours, dollar amounts and rules change often. Always call to confirm before you travel, apply or rely on any figure. Every program listed serves people of any faith or no faith.

Shelter for Families

Two-parent, father-headed, three-generation, or large households. This is the hardest category to place. Many shelters split adults by gender and cannot keep a household together. These programs keep families intact:

Program	Where	Contact
Deep Roots / Clairvaux Farm	Earleville, MD (Cecil)	24/7: 877-919-7668 · office 410-275-2194

Important: The Harford Family House Emergency Shelter in Belcamp does not take children overnight. Families in Harford County must go through the separate family programs at Harford Family House in Aberdeen or Anna’s House — both via HCAA at 443-456-3629. TLC in Lancaster is often the only option for large or three-generation households, since it can serve single men, single women, couples, single parents, two-parent families, and multi-generational families without splitting them up.

Free Meals

Hot meals and community dinners that anyone can walk into — no ID, referral or payment needed unless noted. Days and times change, especially around holidays, so call ahead or dial 211 before you go. For groceries instead of a cooked meal, see the food pantries in the next section.

What Actually Happens When You Call

A trained counselor answers. They listen. They do not send police unless you are in immediate physical danger and cannot stay safe — the vast majority of calls end with a conversation and a plan, nothing more. You can stay anonymous. You can call about someone else. You can call when you are not in crisis but are struggling and need to talk to a person. There is no wrong reason to call.

- Listen without arguing. You do not have to fix it or talk them out of it. Staying present matters more than saying the right thing.

- Do not leave them alone if the danger feels immediate. Call 988 together, or 911 if there is immediate physical danger.
- You can call 988 for guidance about someone else. You do not need their permission.

Why This Section Is in a Housing Guide

Losing housing is one of the most destabilizing things that can happen to a person, and the despair that comes with it is a normal response to an abnormal situation — not a character flaw and not permanent. Many people reading this have already survived more than most people ever will. If today is the hardest day, please make one call before you make any other decision. 988. That is all it takes.

Jobs, Training and Education

All of these are free. They have computers, printers, phones, and internet you can use for job searching, plus staff who will sit with you on a résumé. Several will pay for training or certifications. For much more, see the stake's Finding Work guide.

Unemployment Benefits

If you lost a job through no fault of your own, you may be owed money. Unemployment insurance is not welfare — it is an insurance program your employer paid into on your behalf.

- Apply even if you think you might not qualify. People are wrongly talked out of filing all the time. Let the state decide. If you are denied, you have the right to appeal, and appeals are frequently won.
- Apply as soon as you stop working. Every week you wait is money you may not get back. If you already waited, ask whether your claim can be backdated.
- File in the state where you earned your wages, not where you live. If you worked in more than one state in the last 18 months, tell the claims agent — you may qualify for a combined-wage claim.

Things Worth Knowing

- On residency. Most programs prioritize or restrict to their own county. Water Street Mission requires 90 days of Lancaster County residency. Cecil programs prioritize Cecil residents. Start with the county you are actually in — but if you are turned away, ask the intake worker to call the neighboring county for you. They talk to each other.
- On waitlists. Being placed on a waitlist is not a guarantee of a bed that night. Delaware's Centralized Intake is alerted throughout the day as beds open and will call you back — so keep your phone on and charged, and give them a second contact number if you have one.
- On documents. You do not need an ID to call for help. If you have lost your ID, birth certificate, or Social Security card, Safe Harbor in Chester County does ID recovery, and county Social Services offices in all three states can help you replace documents. Cecil County has periodically run a Homeless Resource Day that handles IDs, birth certificates, medical and dental screenings, haircuts, and showers in one place — ask Meeting Ground when the next one is.
- On mail. Without an address you cannot receive benefits decisions. The Mary Randall Center in Elkton provides mail service. Ask any day center about using its address, or use General Delivery at a post office.
- On losing housing before it happens. If you have an eviction notice but are still housed, call before you leave. Home of the Sparrow (610-647-4940), Orion Communities (610-415-1140), HCAA (443-456-3629), Maryland Rural Development Corp. in Kent (667-254-8063), and county Social Services all run eviction prevention and one-time emergency financial help. Free eviction lawyers: Maryland Legal Aid (1-888-465-2468), Delaware Volunteer Legal Services (302-478-8680), MidPenn Legal Services (1-800-326-9177), Legal Aid of Southeastern PA (877-429-5994). Preventing an eviction is far easier than finding a shelter bed.
- On being turned away. It happens, and it is not a verdict on you. Ask three questions every time: Is there a waitlist and where am I on it? What should I do tonight? Who else should I call? Write down the answers.
- On the ward. Bishops can help with short-term needs such as food, a night's lodging, or a ride, and can connect you with ward members who will walk with you through the process. You do not need to be a member of the Church to ask.

- General information only. This guide is for general reference. It is not legal, medical, financial, tax or immigration advice, and it does not create a lawyer–client, counselor–client or any other professional relationship.
- No guarantee of eligibility or services. Listing a program does not mean you qualify or that space, money or appointments are available. Each agency makes its own decisions.
- Information changes. Details were checked in October 2026 against official and organization websites. Phone numbers, addresses, hours, income limits and dollar amounts change often, sometimes without notice. Call to confirm before you travel, apply or make a decision.
- Not an endorsement. Organizations are listed only because they serve people in our area. The Wilmington Delaware Stake and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints do not endorse, sponsor or take responsibility for any outside organization, its staff or its services.
- Not an official Church publication. This guide was compiled by local volunteers. The quotation on the cover is included for encouragement; you do not need to share any faith to use any resource in this guide.
- Emergencies. If anyone is in immediate danger, call 911. For a mental-health or suicide crisis, call or text 988. For anything else, dial 211.
- Shelter availability. Beds, vouchers and waitlists change daily. Being listed here does not mean space is available. Programs merge, move and close; for example, Harford Family House and Welcome One merged, and Kent County's shelter situation has been unsettled.
- Crisis services. This guide is not a substitute for emergency or professional care. Phone and text services described here are run by independent organizations under their own policies.
